9:00 Call-in

Attendance: Anne Clark, Anneliese Ripley, Barry Good, Daniel Bingham, David Hall, Jane Karas, Joe Schaffer, John Cech, John Garic, Judy Heiman, Mary Moe, Rolf Groseth, and Travis Reindl (Stefani Hicswa—excused)

1. COLLEGE! NOW ONLINE Update – Mary Moe
   Effort has been put on hold until at least next fall because of the following:
   - Inconsistent fees, which is not a good promotion and raises questions between campuses
   - Considerable changes still being made to the web sight
   - Concerns about overlapping and duplicating efforts of the MT Digital Academy
   - Timing, as high schools are dismissing for the summer and counselors can’t work with students

2. Dual Credit Update – Mary Moe
   Sub-committee has been working on a DRAFT document which will be released for review today. The following issues need to be addressed:
   - NACEP accreditation – Mary will ask for input from NACEP
   - Pricing/fees – need to convene campus fiscal folk
   - Common inter-local agreement – Implementation Team

   We can’t implement until next academic year. High School/College Transitions Workgroup will again address this area as well as the Implementation Team.

3. DRAFT Regents Transfer Core – Mary Moe
   Progress is being made, but not ready to take to the Board of Regents.

4. Digital Academy – Mary Moe
   Press releases have been made indicating the start for fall classes online. There is a meeting between Academy officials and Commissioner Stearns today with one of the major issues of discussion to deal with dual credit courses. Input from CEOs is that we can help the MTDA with dual enrollment but they will run into the same problems we did with College!Now Online if they implement now. It’s more important to get the dual enrollment framework in place before adding another model to the mix.
